1st class ambulance service eludes town

St. Albert came within an ace of having a first class 24 hour, fully manned, paramedic ambulance service approved in principle by town council last Monday night.

But caution and the problem of how much the service would cost saw an approval in principle of a much less than first class service which led Councillor Rod Thordson say "Are we looking at the difference between a paramedic service and a meatwagon service?"

The committee of the whole looked at an exhaustive report on the paramedic service which if it had been approved as laid out in the study would have brought to St. Albert a nine man paramedic team, fully equipped, putting an extra $136,000 on St. Albert's budget.

Councillor Barry Breadner said "It's quite a step, it's quite a step, we'd be almost as large as the Fire Department has been."

Basically council could only approve in principle the idea of a 24 hour ambulance service with much of the trimmings as recommended in the report cut away. Copies of that report are available to the public in the St. Albert Library.

Councillor Margaret Smith was adamant that council should have gone for the service as recommended, with it being accommodated in a bay in the Fire Hall.

She said she was concerned at the lack of action by the provincial government "and the MLAs" for ambulance services in the province.

She mentioned there had been great concern for adequate ambulance services shown at Alberta Urban Municipality Association meetings.

"There is great concern in the municipalities at the lack of (such) services in their region... an ambulance is a definite part. She claimed that help was needed "as the costs are too great for the areas themselves."

Council will open the ambulance service question to the public via the June census and is also to approach the MD of Surgeon for input on how it might help finance the service.

Mayor Dick Plain was in no doubt as to the meritorious nature of the service - a first class service as Coun. Breadner had called it. But he expressed concern that higher levels of government remained uncommitted on giving the funds for the job while the town had other priorities like the relocation of the civic centre. He felt the people should be given a Please Turn to Page 2

$11 million shopping centre plan

St. Albert residents will soon know the whys and wherefores of an $11 million major shopping centre when plans for the centre are set before St. Albert's municipal planning commission April 21.

Edmonton developer, Joe Sheekter of the firm Shelter Resources, is planning the centre on a 37 acre site south of St. Albert off Highway 2.

The centre would be slightly smaller than the 300,000 square foot complex Abbey Glen proposed.

Last year town council chose a $16 million proposal from Abbey Glen Property Corporation among six bidders. But after one year of negotiation the town broke off its dealings with the Toronto based firm claiming that it sought too many concessions.

Shelter Resources was one of the firms in the running with Abbey Glen to provide St. Albert with a major shopping facility.

The centre planned by Shelter Resources will be slightly smaller than the 300,000 square foot complex Abbey Glen proposed. It would include a major food Please Turn to Page 2

No big tax increase slated for 1976

It looks as though St. Albertans will not be hammered over the head with a whopping rise in taxes when council finally strikes the 1976 mill rate.

At the committee of the whole meeting last Monday night Mayor Plain told the committee all he was doing was recommending a two mill increase for 1976.

In terms of the average residential assessment the increase of two mills means there will be an extra $16.00 on St. Albertans' tax bills.

With the proposed two mill increase, the mill rate for 1976 will be $6.48 compared to last year's rate of $4.68 mills.

The two mill increase will represent a percentage increase of 3.66.

When council finally approves the budget, Mayor Plain says he will hold a press conference and go through the main points of the budget.

The town has been discussing the budget for some time now.

From what can be gleaned, the Ad Hoc Budget Committee has had to take into account a 10 percent increase in the population this year with the increasing demands this makes for new services. But the committee has managed to restrain these demands by holding the increase in the mill rate to two points this year.

District 3 rate payers face tax increase

The St. Albert Catholic School District No. 3 brought down a budget of $3,808,716 for 1976. This will mean that the average ratepayer of District No. 3 will experience a $46 a year increase in taxes. Last year ratepayers of the district enjoyed a reduction in taxes so the net effect of the increase will be to bring the taxes to approximately the same level as they were in 1974.

The budget will bring about a slight reduction of staff employed in the district and cause a slight increase in the pupil/teacher ratio. It is expected that all of the present services in the district will be retained.

FRENCH KINDERGARTEN

Mr. Marcel Gravelle attended the regular board meeting of District No. 3 on Monday, April 5 to ask the board to consider a total immersion French kindergarten in the district. He presented a list of names of interested parents. Mr. Gravelle said that while he realized that an excellent program was offered in the Grandin School, a long bus ride was involved for the very young children. Trustees thanked Mr. Gravelle for attending the meeting and advised him that his request would be considered.

NEW PRINCIPAL

Mr. Clarence Kambietz has been selected for the appointment of principal of St. Albert High School. Mr. Kambietz will be replacing Mr. Ross Johnston who is principal designate for the new Bertha Kennedy Community Core School to be constructed in Lacombe Park.

chance to look at the problem.

There was the feeling at council that a year might be lost in the building of accommodation for the service, if there was too much shilly shallying at the council level.

It was Councillor Barry Breadner who put forward the strongest objection to the service as laid out in the report, when he criticized it on the grounds of cost.

Councillor Gary Wetsch said if nothing was done till June then implementation of the service could not come by October as he hoped.

Earlier Mayor Plain pointed out he supported the idea in principle, "but we have some pretty hard choices even in an area like ambulance service."

Councillor Myrna Fyfe called the report on the service "excellent."

Building boom continues in St. Albert

St. Albert's building boom continues.

Figures released from the town planning department show an approximate 80 percent increase in residential building permits over the same period last year.

This time last year $758,994 single family permits were issued. The total for this year at the end of March is $5,317,622 for 179 units.

Last month alone saw 99 single family building permits issued valued at $2,934,376.

In March one commercial building permit worth $125,000 was issued for Calgary Power's steel erection at Bellrose Drive. A $1,106,796 institutional permit was issued for the Lacombe Park Community Core School on Larose Drive and two industrial permits worth a total of $109,990 were issued for a plant addition at Riel Drive and an addition to an existing shop and office on the same street.

So far this year a total of $8,418,866 building permits have been issued in all categories, which is astronomically higher than the same time last year when only $975,165 in permits was recorded.

A report from the Town Planner Wayne Gordon says that at the present pace, new residential developments could approach 800 units this year compared to just over 600 units last year.

There are over 1000 single family lots either serviced or approved for subdivision in St. Albert. The report says this compares well with last year's inventory of 899 lots at the same time of year.

Kinsmen and Council cooperate on rodeo 115

The St. Albert Kinsmen Club prised a commitment of financial help for Rodeo 115 from town council last Monday night to make sure of the $45,000 needed to get the event off the ground this summer.

At the committee of the whole meeting town council agreed in principle to helping the Kinsmen obtain funds for the Rodeo project, mindful that the Kinsmen have done sterling work in keeping a rodeo alive in St. Albert.

St. Albert town staff will be looking at ways of financing the project over the next two years. The Kinsmen themselves are sure they can provide $12,000 of the total and they are optimistic that if the rain stays away, the Rodeo will be self-financing.

Both St. Albert and the Kinsmen are hopeful of a capital grant from the provincial government of about $11,000 with St. Albert providing the rest of the bucks over the next two year period.

Councillor Rod Thronson said he didn't think council was sticking its neck out too far in considering grants from the government and its own two year cost contribution.

An amendment to the motion for rodeo financial aid from Councillor Barry Breadner that it should be subject to investigation for alternatives was defeated by council.

Kinsmen Chairman Dave Stewart expressed the hope the Rodeo would pay for itself and that a permanent home might be found for it eventually. The Kinsmen have a three year lease on land one mile east of the St. Albert Trail on Sturgeon Road. It's about 20 acres and has already been seeded for the Rodeo.

Nineteen committees have been set in motion by the Kinsmen to give the project impetus and Mr. Stewart said they'll be meeting every Wednesday morning 6:45 a.m. to make sure the Rodeo "bucks off" June 15.

Councillor Rod Thronson said: "It would be a shame to lose the Rodeo, we have to give it support."

Earlier in the discussion Mayor Dick Plain suggested that the town contribute about $10,000 in grants and $5,000 in bleachers for the project.

He also pointed out St. Albert was restricted to a ½ mill maximum for financial contribution.

A release from the Kinsmen to council shows the Kinsmen have been really working hard on the project. "Where we found resources lacking, we began to create them so the Kinsmen are learning to weld, operate heavy equipment, drive trucks and many other skills necessary to accomplish our task."

Last spring ball for auxiliary liquor laws being enforced

This year's Spring Ball, slated for May 1st at the Club Mocombo, may well be the last for the Sturgeon General Hospital Auxiliary. This message came across when the subject of the ball and fests were discussed at Monday evening's regular hospital auxiliary meeting.

President Sheila Cooper advised members that although the liquor laws have not altered they are being stringently enforced. Minor misdemeanors, even committed unwittingly, can result in the withdrawal of a liquor permit and other service groups in the community are experiencing exactly the same problem.

Legion auxiliary offers student bursaries

Information has been distributed to the high schools this week by the Legion Ladies Auxiliary on Bursary Awards available to children of ex-service personnel in 1976.

Auxiliary member Joanne Cockwill reports that in St. Albert there has not been a large response to this program which provides $250 awards to students continuing their education. Two students were granted bursaries last year however.

The bursaries are for Alberta and N.W.T. students entering University, School of Technology and Art, two-year Nursing programs, Junior Colleges and Business Colleges.

For example, no advertising spring balls or fests is allowed under the regulations. This would mean that the only way of promoting this kind of function would be by word of mouth.

It was generally felt that this method would not be too reliable and the auxiliary would have to come up with alternate methods to raise funds for hospital equipment.

The annual ball and fests have usually realized reasonable profits for the group and this money has been used to purchase equipment such as a heart defibrillator, cribs for pediatrics, ice making machine, colter counter for the laboratory and breathing apparatus for those suffering from pneumonia.

AUXILIARY TO SPONSOR LIONS BIKE-A-THON RIDER

In response to a request by the president, Yvonne Beresch volunteered to ride for the auxiliary in the forthcoming Lions Bike-a-thon. Members decided to raise the sponsorship money among themselves.

AUXILIARY TO JOIN INTERCLUB

Members voted to join the Interclub Council and Treasurer Odile Lesburg was requested to send the club membership fee.

Blood donor cards were circulated for the annual Kinette Blood Donor Clinic.

HOSPITAL TOUR GUIDES

Four members volunteered to act as tour guides in the hospital for visiting kindergarten groups. These are Kay Wilson, Marion Kay, Falina Borle and Ruth Quimet. The kindergarten children will tour the pharmacy, emergency, x-ray, physiotherapy, laboratory, kitchen and business areas of the hospital.

AUXILIARY GUESTS

Visitors from the Fort Saskatchewan Hospital Auxiliary were present. Olga Pollard and Muriel Abdurhaman and a local visitor, Louisa Mayo.

15 year old girl tangles with RCMP

Two 15 year old St. Albert girls engaged town RCMP in a 10 block chase along Sturgeon Road early last Sunday morning in a car they had stolen from the St. Albert Inn.

A spokesman for the St. Albert RCMP said the Highway Patrol observed a car without tail lights on the Sturgeon Road at 1:25 a.m., April 11. Police attempted to stop the car to point out the deficiency, but the car accelerated to speeds in excess of 50 miles per hour in a 30 mile per hour zone.

A chase ensued for about 10 to 15 minutes eastbound on the road with the girl drivers cutting off the RCMP patrol car several times. After the police and the juvenile drivers continued the chase for several blocks, the drama ended as both cars collided.

About $75 damage was done to the police car while the car driven by the two teen-age girls sustained $200 damage. Investigations on the incident continue and charges may be laid against the two juveniles. The car they were driving had been stolen from the parking lot of the St. Albert Inn and was owned by Myrtice Baker of Edmonton. Please Turn to Page 5

St. Albert's "Berlin Wall" problem

It seems that human beings, along with animals, do not like the feeling of being hemmed in.

Certainly this is the case between St. Albert's Bellevue Crescent and the north side of the Ridgewood Terrace condominiums. Some residents have taken the "law" into their own hands and have cut a large opening in a fence which cuts off access from the Crescent to a park area (the Burnham Ravine Park).

There has been no ongoing battle between residents on the north side of the condominiums who want the access to the park, and the residents of the condominiums who want peace and quiet from bikes and motorcycles which keep zooming through the opening.

The mystery of Christ's burial cloth

By Jim McIntyre

A piece of cloth 14 feet by three feet, with the marks of a man over six feet showing a terrible death by scourging and crucifixion, lies in a golden casket in Turin Cathedral in north Italy.

It has been there for about 400 years and is displayed to the public every 33 years. It is shrouded in mystery and has caused a great deal of scientific, medical and theological controversy since it was first photographed near the end of the last century.

The cloth has a recorded history going back to the first century and has been revered for nearly 2,000 years as the authentic burial cloth of Jesus Christ.

There are some who dismiss the cloth as a fake, as a crude painting by some little known Renaissance artist, but subsequent scientific examination reveals not a trace of pigment on the cloth.

Theologians point to the fact that the marks on the Shroud tally with all the gospel accounts of the crucifixion and scourging.

From a photographer's point of view, the cloth is the perfect "natural" equivalent of a photographic negative, i.e. with grey against a predominantly light background. When the cloth was first photographed by an Italian in the 1890's, a strange reversal took place. After the photographer developed the negative plate he was astounded to see a positive image on the plate, the face of a Nazarene, bearded, with what we would call today the long hair of a "hippy."

Because Vatican authorities allowed many photographs of the cloth to be taken, investigations of it have not been hampered by the fact it is only shown to the public every 33 years.

The manner in which the image came to be formed on cloth is itself a great mystery. It is thought that a combination of natural body chemicals, uric acid and ammonia, as well as the burial spices used to embalm the body contributed to the image on the cloth. There are also brownish red blotches which are thought to be dried blood plasma.

Many scientists, even atheists, are convinced, after scientific examination of the cloth, that it is easier to believe in its authenticity, rather than the lack of it.

One of the great champions of the cloth in Europe is no less a person than Group Captain Leonard Cheshire VC, who was an observer on the American atomic bomb raids over Japan at the end of World War Two. He has written a number of pamphlets on the Turin Shroud.

But while the cloth records faithfully the brutality accorded Jesus, there are the marks of the lance thrust, the swelling on the right cheek bone after the blow by the High Priest, marks made by the nails, the thorns on the head and the scourge marks to the body, it is more of a "bombshell" because of its theological implications.

For instance, when Christ, according to the gospel accounts, was asked by the Jews to give a final sign to prove his Divinity, he refused, fobbing them off with a strange conundrum. He gave them nothing but the Sign of Jonah, that just as Jonah had survived death in the belly of the whale, so it would be with the Son of Man; the implication being that Christ would not be conquered finally by death and that he would emerge victorious from the grave.

The Jews were not insulted by this remark, they took it to the point where they even expected Christ would come down from the Cross, proving once and for all that he was the Son of God, and therefore the Messiah.

At this point, we must harken back to the cloth, or what has come to be termed the "Shroud of Turin."

According to a recent book on the Shroud, "Inquest on Jesus Christ" by John Reban, now sadly out of print, certain blood stains on the Shroud have a significant bearing on the last sign that Jesus gave to the Jews - that of Jonah, the belly of the whale, the symbol of his victory over death.

Some of the blood stains are so profuse, particularly on the head and the back of the forearms, they indicate that there must have been slight heart activity AFTER Christ was taken down from the Cross. This heart activity was quite possible since the Shroud indicates that the lance thrust, while aimed at the general direction of the heart, would not have hit it. This is because the heart in a crucified person sinks into the diaphragm because of the strains imposed by crucifixion. Indeed the lance thrust could have stimulated heart activity rather than make sure the victim was dead. This is quite in line with the modern revival technique of injecting adrenalin to the heart muscles of "dead" patients.

However, the truth of all this surmise does depend on the authenticity of the Shroud itself.

Presuming that the Gospels accurately tell what happened on Calvary 2,000 years ago, we have to believe that Christ did SUFFER death on the Cross. The gospels tell us that he "gave up the spirit," and said, "It is finished."

Whatever took place after this may be recorded on the Shroud of Turin.

The final solution of the Shroud's mystery, particularly pertaining to its authenticity, may well be tied in with that other central fact of the Christian Faith, the Resurrection, the great feast which will be celebrated this coming Sunday.

SENIOR CITIZEN ACCOMMODATION IN ST. ALBERT

The efforts made by a determined group of St. Albert senior citizens in pressing the provincial government for immediate construction of senior citizen accommodation in our community has "paid off handsomely." A 44 unit lodge and a 50 unit self-contained housing development will be built in St. Albert over the course of the next two years. The credit for obtaining this type of prompt action stems primarily from the senior citizens' ability to organize a petition and a letter writing campaign and to make an effective submission to the provincial government. Both myself, members of the town council and staff have appreciated the opportunity of being of some minor assistance to the senior citizens in achieving their goal, however the bulk of the initiative, work and perseverance has emanated from the senior citizens themselves.

It is useful to outline the steps that we propose to follow in building the first phase of the project. Firstly, the Sturgeon Foundation is the group which has ostensibly sponsored the lodge. On April 15 Councillor Smith will meet in legal with the other members of the Foundation and officials of the Alberta Housing Corporation. St. Albert will request that our management committee should be given the responsibility of working with the architect, Mr. Peter Hemingway, in ensuring that the site along the river is developed in a manner and way which best accommodates both the lodge and the self-contained unit proposals. Secondly, given this mandate from the Foundation, the St. Albert management committee will begin working closely with the architect in ensuring that the facilities are designed in a way that meets the best interests of our residents. This should be an exciting time for all the senior citizens of St. Albert as they examine various alternatives and set forth their ideas and concepts.

In closing, the Town of St. Albert has donated the land for the senior citizens' site and it has the responsibility for absorbing the bulk of the deficits that are incurred in operating the lodge. The Alberta Housing Corporation will pay for the construction of the building. The key group is the senior citizens. It is hoped that by structuring the management committee in a way that ensures that the senior citizens have the major input that we can ensure that our senior residents can play the key role in managing and directing their own affairs.

Mayor, Town of St. Albert

Fallacy of minimum wage

By KENNETH McDONALD

All Canadians share concern for the plight of the working poor. They prefer work to welfare. Yet recipients of welfare are awarded benefits — public housing, free health and dental care, subsidized transportation — which provide a higher living standard than can be got from working. But attempts to help the working poor by raising the minimum wage only cause more distortions.

Wage differentials are created by unions in the public and the private sectors. In order to narrow the gap between the organized and unorganized sectors of the labour force, governments raise the minimum wage. It hasn't worked. Each group continues to maintain its own differential and the whole wage structure rises. Result: more inflation.

• • •

Ottawa sets the pace with a $3 per hour minimum. Provincial rates are as high as $2.80. Yet in the U.S. the minimum is $2.20. In December, 1975, a U.S. economist testified before a Senate committee that raising the minimum to $3 would increase unemployment by one per cent and the Consumer Price Index by two per cent.

Vehicles banned from Long Beach

Tire tracks and exhaust fumes are disappearing forever from the beige sands of Long Beach in Pacific Rim National Park.

"Visitors to the park can no longer use their vehicles on the beach," said park superintendent, Frank Camp.

But while vehicles are banned from the beach, beach camping will continue.

"Before Easter we will open a new campground on the headland between Schooner Cove and Long Beach."

"Beach camping has always been a popular activity on Long Beach and Parks Canada thinks it is important that visitors enjoy this activity in a fairly wild setting," said Mr. Camp.

The Schooner Campground will have a capacity of 100 sites and will be provided with portable vacuum toilets and drinking water. To keep traffic off the beach, campers will have to talk about ¼ of a mile with their gear from a parking lot to the campground.

Schooner Campground is the only spot in the park where beach camping will be allowed.

Canada's growth

Since the Second World War, Canada has had the highest rate of urban growth of any developed country. By 2000 Canada's urban population could double. This will Gloria's used to dealing with odd queries. But last week she reckons she got the strangest ever. A woman phoned to ask if she could advise her about dyes. Gloria said she'd try to help. What was the problem?

The woman said she wanted to remove green dye from something. Gloria told her her best bet was a professional dyeing firm. She offered a list of names.

The woman said that was out of the question. Then she told a daft story ...

She'd decided to dye her living room curtains. She chose a light green dye and dissolved it in the bath while she went to take down the curtains.

Meanwhile her husband had come home from the night shift. He was dead beat and delighted to find a hot bath waiting for him, complete with coloured bath salts. How considerate of the missus!

In a jiffy he was relaxing in the water, unknown to his wife, of course. By the time she had got the curtains down and went to the bathroom, her husband had turned a lovely shade of green!

There were still green patches on her husband. How could she get rid of them?

Gloria was flummoxed. All she could suggest was a heavy scrub with a harmless colour solvent. The woman said she hoped it would work. So do we. For no doubt her man was also a little red with anger!

RIGHT TO OWN 44 MAGNUM NORTH OF 60th PARALLEL. From House of Commons debates ...

Mer. Erik Nielson (Yukon): I think in my riding of the old people of Old Crow, whose very lives revolve around hunting, trapping and fishing all year round. That requires the unrestricted, the absolute right to use a firearm. When you take that right away from them or interfere with it, then so far as they are concerned what you are doing ... is taking the grub right off their table. That situation probably exists in many parts of the northern portions of the provinces, but in the Northwest Territories and in the Yukon Territory it is very acute.

The situation in respect of the people of Old Crow I think can best be exemplified by an example ... There is a small village in the Yukon called Champagne. An Indian person was walking along in the woods not far from Champagne ... While he was walking through a wooded portion of the valley all of a sudden he found himself face to face with a grizzly bear. His rifle was slung on his back. He did not have time to get the rifle off his back and cope with that grizzly bear. Had he had a hand gun he might have been able to cope with the situation. He did not.

The grizzly walked a second thought attacked him. With one cuff the native person was on the ground. All he could think of doing, because he could not reach around to get his rifle from his back, was to play possum...

The bear took another swipe at him, and ripped the back of his scalp down over the front of his head. All this time the Indian did not utter a sound. He played absolutely dead.

That man lived despite the serious mauling he received.

It is common practice, indeed essential for survival in the Yukon Territory and Northwest Territories to have the right to carry a 44 magnum, which is the common gun used in the bush, rather than a heavy rifle....

Now after the right to carry this kind of weapon has existed for so many years, almost a century from my reading of history we find there is a restriction - the Solicitor General appears to be ignorant of this fact - which has issued from Ottawa, which has the effect of telling the RCMP that there will be no permits issued for anyone for the carrying of handguns.

St. Albert RCMP are investigating a rash of car break-ins April 6 after complaints from residents of Gilmore Crescent, Grosvenor Boulevard, and Gaylord Place.

Twenty-four eight track tapes were reported missing from the cars, some of which may have been unlocked say RCMP. Some tape decks were also reported missing. The incident is still being investigated.

wood Terrace Condominium Association Steven Elliott told the committee of the whole last Monday night "We are concerned about the motorbikes on the sidewalks..."

And referring to the danger to tiny tots, he said, "If an accident occurred then all of us would say we should have had the gate up."

As far as putting fencing up to solve the problem, he felt there would be no objection to the fence continuing into the ravine park "so that we do not get people tearing our property."

Mayor Dick Plain told Mr. Elliott (council) will try to solve the problem in a "permanent setting this time."

He pointed out that if

Rec board continues work on comprehensive plan to gather public opinion

A number of local groups and organizations took advantage of the opportunity to make their views on recreational and cultural facilities known to the Recreation Board sub-committee at meetings held Sunday afternoon, Sunday evening and Monday evening. Written submissions backed up most of these proposals. Serving on the sub-committee are Lorne Wood, Barb Munro and Gerry Jayocks. St. Albert Breakfast Lions spoke to a joint proposal by the Breakfast and Supper Lions Clubs and the Kinsmen Club. These three service clubs are interested in getting involved in the facilities to a worthwhile financial extent and will plan in co-operation with the Recreation Board.

The School Principals Association and both School Boards were also heard, and the Boards were basically in agreement with the principal's submission reported last week. They felt also that the two major priorities were an indoor pool and an arena and agreed with the principals on the Paul Kane and St. Albert High sites. While not disagreeing with any of the principal's submission, the school boards did reserve judgement on some of the long-range proposals, until the distribution and timing of the proposed large population growth is more defined. The Boards' submissions also had an eye to the instructional capabilities of facilities.

access were permitted, then there would have to be a commitment from both sides. "It is a major thoroughfare and people want to use it," Mayor Plain said.

Not so long ago the Ridge-wood Condominium Association closed off the access between itself, the park and Bellevue Crescent. But the problem is far from solved yet and condominium residents will be meeting next week to decide on the problem of free access between the Crescent and the condominiums.

The proposals of the St. Albert Arts and Crafts Guild were quite modest. The Guild would like to renovate their present centre and make an addition to it which would include a small storage area for clay and other supplies. They are hoping that the Creative Schools can find more suitable accommodation within the school district in the Fall, which would supply extra space. In addition the Guild would like to get a not so elaborate portable building for use as a gallery and display area. These proposals would handle the needs of the Guild for up to five years. There would be no land costs involved and the Guild has not yet prepared cost estimates of the addition and portable, which the Rec. Board would be interested in receiving.

Other groups heard from were the Leo Hickerson PTA and the Sailfish Swim Club, both of whom emphasized the participation aspect as opposed to spectator needs. In fact all of the group proposals held the view that participation should be optimized when considering facilities.

Earlier this spring the Neighbourhood Steering Council made available to the Rec. Board their questionnaire results. In addition the Board has on record the positions of such groups as racquet ball, tennis and badminton clubs as presented when a complex was under consideration.

INDIVIDUALS TO BE HEARD THIS WEEK

The Rec Board committee has arranged two meetings this week to hear the opinions and ideas of individuals, Wednesday evening at Sir George Simpson School and Thursday evening at St. Albert High, both at 7:30 p.m.

In addition the Board will still accept written submissions from any group or organization. But they are hopeful of getting all proposals in within a week.

OPINIONAIRE

The third information-gathering plan is the opinionnaire mailed last Thursday and delivered Thursday, Friday and Monday to all households in St. Albert. Again the Board is hopeful that residents will complete these and return them within a week.

For after all the information is received, collating it will be a considerable job, for which the Recreation Board hopes to get volunteer help. When that task is completed the sub-committee will present its recommendations to the Rec. Board as a whole.

Town Council is prepared to hear the report of the Recreation Board at committee meeting May 10th, and given the co-operation of interested members of the public, the Recreation Board will be ready for that date.

New rodeo slated for new grounds

With the coming of spring in St. Albert, you can be assured of one thing: the preparation of the Annual Kinsmen Rodeo. This year version "115" will be a special one as it will be the opening of a new rodeo on new grounds.

We will have the usual midway, but of course, bigger and better on the new site. The rodeo will have all the necessary facilities to provide the residents of St.

Albert and district the opportunity to enjoy a first-class event.

Rodeo patrons will be able to enjoy the show from proper bleachers - and what a show.

The new grounds will have a track incorporated in the arena where, for the first time in St. Albert, the pony chuckwagons and pony chariots will be entertaining the crowds.

The work done by the Kinsmen has been greatly supported by the financial, physical and moral support of the whole community. The work started back in the fall, with Big Lake Sod preparing and seeding the 30 acre site which is located one mile east of St. Albert Trail on Sturgeon Road.

The drafting 10 class at Paul Kane High School is presently drafting the total design, and this will be presented to the Kinsmen Club for the actual construction.

Be prepared to enjoy Canada's 10th largest, our own Rodeo 115, June 18, 19 and 20.

Kids like hillocks, residents don't

The Town of St. Albert may intervene to help a resident of Broadvue Crescent ward off the hordes of kids congregating on a playground of hillocks between the Crescent and Ridgewood Terrace.

Resident of Broadvue Crescent Otto Schnirer told the committee of the whole last Monday night a fence should be constructed to close off the hillocks, prevent easy access and "preserve some of our privacy."

There are allegations from Mr. Schnirer that youngsters congregating in the area are using abusive language during their get together sessions as well as drinking among the hillocks when it gets dark.

"I'm not suggesting the complete fencing off of the property," Mr. Schnirer conceded, while Mayor Dick Plain agreed that some buffering to the property was needed.

Mr. Schnirer complained garbage was piling up at the point of congregation, probably the result of children from neighbouring schools eating lunch there.

One solution to the problem might be increase of formal access to the area which seems to have been left out of the original design.

The mayor also gave a half suggestion there might be some form of policing," though this could make things worse."

Mayor Plain said residents could not be expected to bear the brunt of the problem, but they also had to remember the area was public park and everyone had the right to it.

Level out those NATURAL GAS PAYMENTS

To aid with their budgeting, some customers prefer to pay their gas bills under Northwestern's Payment Equalization Plan. It is available to all customers on a voluntary basis.

Here is how the plan works:

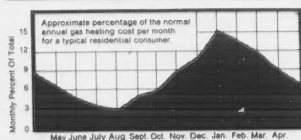

The company estimates what your annual gas consumption will be and bills you in twelve equal monthly payments at prevailing rates. Adjustment to actual consumption is made every twelve months.

When rates are changed or, if during the year, it becomes apparent from meter readings that your consumption will differ substantially from our estimate, your monthly payments are adjusted to ensure that at the end of the winter season you have no large unpaid balance.

Your meter is read bi-monthly and the estimated or actual consumption is recorded on your bill. Under the Payment Equalization Plan you pay only for the amount of gas used during the year. Payment Equalization Plan accounts start in May, so we invite you to contact us now if you wish to have your account billed in this manner.

The adjacent graph illustrates how monthly heating bills vary throughout the year. Budget plan customers avoid the higher bills of winter by spreading their total gas bill for the year over 12 equal monthly payments.

Incomprehensible motion carried by Council

Sometimes St. Albert council gets so complicated that a motion can get carried "with the hope that somebody knows what it means."

So said Chairwoman Margaret Smith at the committee of the whole meeting last Monday night after council got carried away on the problem of who should receive how much of the gate proceeds from the St. Albert Figure Skating carnival.

The motion that seemed to surpass all human understanding was carried 4-3. When it got to the end of seemingly millions of years of evolution it simply said, if a profit was made, it should be shared up to a maximum of what would have been 40 percent of the gross revenue (of the carnival).

The discussion was on a recommendation from the town Parks and Recreation Board, quote, "That for the purpose of the Figure Skating Carnival, that the usual 40 percent of the gross gate receivable to the town be waived."

Mayor Dick Plain did not think waiving the policy was part of the problem but whether all clubs would break even. The mayor said he didn't want an avalanche of groups "in front of us."

Given the possibility that clubs like the St. Albert Figure Skating Club might not break even, Councillor Gary Wetsch, in a discussion with Parks and Recreation Director Lorne Wood, feared a definite possibility St. Albert would have to subsidize future carnivals.

Council were to have dealt with a further recommendation from Parks and Recreation - and on the night it's perhaps as well they didn't - delaying a Tier 11 Junior "A" Hockey application until a new arena is acquired.

Main reason why council couldn't chew the fat on this one was because Doug Messier, a supporter and organizer for Tier 11 hockey in St. Albert, was en route to Vancouver, B.C.

Bike parts wanted

Spring cleaning the basement or garage? The Sturgeon General Hospital Auxiliary require any bike or trike parts. Mr. Maurice Howlett of Flint Crescent is generously donating his time and labour to repaint, repair and rebuild bikes and trikes. These are then sold at very reasonable prices and the profits go toward the purchase of hospital equipment. So, don't throw away those odd fenders, wheels or grips. # Senior citizens plan many events

The Senior Citizens Recreation Centre (north of the curling rink) is a hive of activity these days with a variety of events taking place.

Card parties and bingos are held on alternate Tuesdays - cards in the afternoons at 1:30 p.m. and bingos in the evenings at 7 p.m.

The Kinmen Club run the bingos (and provide the lunch as well) and cards cost 25¢ each. At the bingo held on April 6, prizes were won by Mary and John James, Bernie and Maurice Vaugois, Antoinette Leblanc, Mary Benoit, Teresa Laplante, Mrs. J. Lema, Mrs. A. Bouchard, Sam Liptak, Robert McCaffery and Dorothy Newman. Dorothy also won the door prize. The next bingo will be held on April 20.

Prize winners at the whist party held on April 13 were Mrs. Miller and Leon Szuba with Dorothy Smith and Zaida Reimer tying for the ladies' consolation prize and Bill Zoltenko winning the men's consolation.

Instead of the usual whist on Tuesday, April 27, a Fitness Workshop will be held at 1:30 p.m. It will be conducted by "Red" Windsor of Calgary who is holding a series of similar workshops throughout the region. Red is himself a senior citizen and a real fitness enthusiast. He has developed a program to exercise all parts of the body - even the eye muscles!

On the previous Thursday, April 22, a film will be shown at around 1:15 p.m. as a kind of introduction to "Red's" demonstration on the following Tuesday.

Information about meals on wheels can be obtained by phoning Hettie Blades at 459-4756 or Pat Gray at 459-7476. As well as organizing the delivery of meals to the homes of people who for some reason require them, these two lady volunteers organize the delivery of a number of lunches to the Senior Citizens' Recreation Centre on Thursdays. Any senior citizen or anyone knowing a senior citizen who would benefit from an occasional lunch at the Centre should phone one of the two ladies mentioned above for information.

A short program often follows the Thursday lunches. On Thursday, April 15, Marie Wolniewicz will present a collection of slides "featuring" South America and other interesting places where she has vacationed. Everyone is welcome; have lunch at home and come to the centre for the slide presentation at 1:15 p.m.

The bowling season finishes on Thursday, April 29. No meals on wheels will be served that day as a banquet will follow the morning's bowling and it will be held in the Centre. For those who bowled and paid their weekly dues regularly during the year, there will be no charge. For non-bowlers there will be a charge of $2.50 each. Anyone wishing to attend must let Sam Liptak (459-6568) or Ed Borle (459-6215) know before April 15.

April 15 is also the deadline for the completion of the list of those wanting to attend the wine-and-cheese party on Monday, April 19 at 7 p.m. This event is being hosted by the St. Albert Community League and members of the Senior Citizens' Club are asked to put their names on the list which is on the notice board at the Centre if they intend accepting the League's kind invitation.

Wednesday afternoons are 4.5% with 137 drivers, 133 passengers, 59 pedestrians, two motorcyclists and one bicyclist.

Estimated property damage was just over 2.5 million dollars for the month.

AROUND TOWN

Kinsmen-Roger Lemieux of the St. Albert club was judged the best public speaker and will represent Zone 2 in the finals of the competition to be held in Lehighbridge the first week in June. Roger's topic was "Today's Youth and Education" and reports indicate he did a tremendous job at the spring zone meeting held at the Masonic Temple in Edmonton. The meeting was hosted by the Fort Edmonton Kinsmen Club with a total of 115 Kinsmen present, out of which 33 were from the St. Albert club. St. Albert Kin have done well in the competitions since they were started some four years ago, with representatives in three of the four events. Don Hurl and Chris were previous zone winners. There are nine clubs in the zone.

A delightful skating carnival was presented by the St. Albert Figure Skating Club last weekend. Each of the two performances drew a mail attendance of over 400 spectators. Capital Cable TV filmed the Sunday afternoon show, which the television audience was able to view last night (Tuesday).

Mrs. Brock, chairwoman of the Carnival Committee organized the entire production which included the construction of props, arrangement of music, lighting, decorations and printing of programs. All the work done by the Figure Skating Club members, except the wiring which was done by Sturgeon Valley Electric. Mrs. Phillips organized the design and construction of the costumes. Much of the behind-the-scenes work was done by the moms and dads - helping the kids get their costumes and make-up ready, and giving the youngsters some much needed encouragement.

The show was based on the theme of "The Wizard of Oz" and included several individual as well as group performances. The program also included a demonstration of the required 'figures' and 'dances' that the skaters must learn as part of their training.

Solo routines were done by: Dwayne Prazak, Tanis Mowbray, Diane Duttall, Sandra Porowski, Laurel Coulter, Gerry Joyal, Natalie Lassiter, Collette Lassiter, Kevin Malinowski, Cheryl Wakefield, Janet Duttall and Deborah-Lynn Paul. Duets were performed by: Wendy Hunt and Shirley Tomassovsky, Joanne Hunt and Susan Pavelch. A dance display of Starlight and Paso was done by Del Blondin and Gordon Foster.

Each of the group performances represented a given segment of the story of Dorothy and her dog Toto and their adventures on their journey to the Land of Oz. The groups included the Cy-clones, the Munchkins, a Cornfield, Apples and Oranges, Poppies, Mice, the March of the Little People, the Working Winkies, the China Dolls, the Land of the Beasts, the Winged Monkeys, the Guards of Emerald City, the Emerald City People, the Land of the Quailings (performed by members of the Standard Generals), a Rainbow Ballet, and the Yellow Brick Road.

The young people who took part in this year's skating carnival worked very hard and practised long hours to prepare themselves for the production. There were many cases of 'butterflies' floating around before the show got underway. But when the time came for them to skate out before the crowd they put on their biggest smiles and gave it their all. The audience responded and showed their appreciation of the skaters by applauding, cheering and generally trying to put them at ease.

All those who worked hard to produce this show should be proud of the results - the 1976 Skating Carnival was a great success.

Joanne Hunt and Susan Pavelch performed an artistic duet at the St. Albert Figure Skating Club Carnival last weekend.

This is the "Land of the Quailings" as interpreted by members of the Standard Generals hockey team at the Figure Skating Carnival last weekend. Further description is beyond words.

STUDENT UNION NEWS

The new student executive this term are as follows: President - Jim Scheibelhofer, Vice-President Real Huot, Secretary Shelly Snall, Treasurer Colleen Klak, Publicity Janice Kremer, Social Director Kevin Telford, Sports Rep. Jean Powers, Grade 10 Rep.

Marvin Soetaert, Grade 11 Rep. Carman Polanski and Grade 12 Rep. Jan Byer. Congratulations to all! An election dance was held March 23 at the Community Hall, with "Lash Larue" playing. It was the last dance of its kind this year. Coming up soon, on April 30, is the Spring Prom, a semi-formal dance held in the school gym. The theme this year is "April Showers Bring May Flowers." Tickets cost $5 a couple or $3 apiece and may be obtained from any of the queen candidates, Denise Young, Mary Anne Sanchez, Pat MacDonald, Carman Polanski, Lynda Matear, or Bridgitte Chelkowski. The candidate who sells the most tickets becomes the '76 Prom Queen.

On Wednesday, April 7th, Jay Jeffries and friends from CHED came to our Greaser

Days to give a two hour sock-hop in the school gym. They played songs from the fifties as well as some of the latest hits. Free albums were given away, and it was a lot of fun. All in all, this sock-hop was better than the last one, and Greaser Days was well participated in, with a good number of teachers and students dressing their part. Laura McQuitty was selected as the best-dressed girl, Clark Wilson as the best-dressed guy, and Mr. Marchand as the greatest teacher. Congratulations!

School jackets are finally in! They are a royal blue with the gold SAHS Skyhawks crest, snap-out lining, mick-ey pocket, and any number of shoulder crests. Average cost of these good looking jackets was $34.00. Thanks to all who put in hard work to get these jackets for our school.

Soup sales for the 1975-76 school year closed down before the Spring Break. This worthwhile project provided a lunch service for students as a whole and also provided funds for the school clubs running the service. Thanks go to all who supported soup sales this year.

The entire school extends sympathy and prayers to Deb Borle and her family.

GRAD

A popular topic of discussion lately has been the 1976 Graduation of the 180 Grade 12 students, to be held entirely on May 21. A group picture of the Grads will be taken at 1:00 in the school gymnasium. Ceremonies, or exercises, will take place at 3:00 in the R.C. Church. At 7:00 there is a banquet at the Edmonton Inn, followed by a dance with "Nite Lite." Tickets for the banquet and dance are priced at $8.50 and will be available after Easter. 700 tickets, or four per graduate, are available.

DANCE CLUB

A new "cram" session for prom-goers began yesterday, Tuesday, April 13. There will be more dance classes at a later date especially for graduating students.

PITCH & SPICE

Pitch and Spice are giving their new concert "Melody Fair" on Friday, April 23, at 8:00, in the R.C. Church. Tickets cost $2 pre-sale, or $3, at the door and may be purchased from Sweetheart Jewellers at the Grandin Mall, or from any Pitch member. A concert for Grades 1-7 will be given last Sunday, April 11 at Father Jan School. Bake sales which are very popular are still continuing.

SQUARE DAWL CURLING LEAGUE

The curling league is finished for the year, with Bernie Hartmetz on top of the SAHS league. Members of his team are Darrell Regimbald (lead), Russel Jordan (2nd), Mike Wynnyk (3rd), Bernie is the skip. Congratulations!

MOVERS

A Share-Lent Walk has been organized for this Friday, April 16. This walk starts at the R.C. Church after the 3:00 Good Friday mass and proceeds to Villeneuve and back, approximately 20 miles. Adults and students alike may participate in the walk.

Mover's Youth Council made a trip over the spring break to High Level, Paddle Prairie, and Assumption to get more information for this coming summer's CYV project. Four CYV teams will be sent this year to provide recreation programs at Cross Lake and Nelson House, Manitoba, and to Paddle Prairie and Assumption, Alberta. Team members will be announced soon.

HIGH SCHOOL TRAVEL PROGRAM

A youth seminar at Gold-eye Lake Centre (65 miles west of Rocky Mountain House) sponsored by REDA (Rural Education and Development Association) will be participated in by up to 20 Grade 11 students from our school. The main theme of the week-long seminar is "co-operation" and the main purpose is to develop and gain leadership skills among youth. Several opportunities are available to students attending the 1976 camp: top participants will be selected to attend a grad seminar win a pre-paid exchange trip to New York. This travel program is like an exchange in that students will have a chance to meet students from all over Alberta.

BADMINTON

The school badminton team has done well this season, participating in exhibition tournaments at Salisbury and Ardrossan, and coming up with more wins than losses. Conference meet will be held on Wednesday, April 21 and following that are zones on April 24. Zones will be held jointly by SAHS and Paul Kane here in St. Albert.

Vital Grandin Muk Luk day

On just about the last cool day of winter, March 19th, Vital Grandin School had its annual Muk-luk and Tubs-Steak Day. It was again a very successful and enjoyable day. The success of the day was a direct result of the tremendous parent response for help. We would again like to thank those parents.

Water holling again proved to be a very popular event.

"Chubboggan" races are always fun.

U of A Golden Bears help out in hockey clinics

Vital Grandin's grade three, four and five boys have experienced quite an exciting lesson in hockey. On three different mornings, members of the U of A Golden Bears hockey team have come out and instructed the different grade levels in informal hockey clinics at the St. Albert Arena.

The Vital Grandin students were helped through skating, passing, shooting and stick-handling drills and the sessions were climaxed by three cross-ice games.

While the boys skated, the girls were bused to the 700 Wing pool in Edmonton and spent the morning swimming under the supervision of Loretta Patterson, phys. ed. teacher at V.G.

Besides Dale Henwood, Craig Gunther, Oliver Stewart and Brian Middleton from the Bears, several other hockey players helped instruct the students including Roger Meunier and Matt Lister from the St. Albert Standard Generals as well as Ken Irving and Scott Bradley, friends of Dan Bouwmeester and Garry Fix, teachers at V.G. who organized the clinics.

From all of the clinics, it was apparent that Vital Grandin has a large number of excellent hockey players ranging from Shaver to Pee-wee A and all the boys enjoyed the experience of a whole morning of hockey instruction and games.

Maloney school raises funds for Share Lent

On March 25 the V. J. Maloney students and teachers organized a rummage sale with proceeds going to Share Lent, students' union and cheerleading costumes. The same night Mr. Dorosh organized a starvathon for Share Lent. The starvathon contestants helped run and clean up after the rummage sale. So far we have made over $600.00 and there is still a few hundred dollars yet to come. Talent Night is another Share Lent project that will be appearing soon. Students are allowed to put in any project that they wish to enter. The starvathon, rummage sale and Talent Night are the three main activities in Share Lent fund raising.

Accent on Akins

By Laurie Root
Hi folks! Long time no hear from me? Well we are still recuperating from our spring break which was so nice for a change. Now we have an Easter vacation coming to us on April 16-19.

An in-service day is to be held on April 15 so we get an extra day off which I'm sure most don't mind. Well so much for holidays!

Many things have been happening since I talked to you last. Our Science Fair has already shown its results and we give our congratulations to all the winners and a big thank you to all participants whose participation helped make the Science Fair a success. Many of the projects will be entered into the Regional Science Fair in Edmonton.

Have you ever run to Montreal? Well we are. Our society is not that of prairies and the Canadian Shield but instead a gymnasium wall and the Lorne Akins field...
You see everyone in the school has been, and is running miles to get to Montreal. We have a house system this year and every house tries to beat the other to see who can run the farthest. Twenty-eight laps around our gymnasium equals one mile, or, now that it's so nice out, it is four laps around our track on the field.
So far we have run a little farther than half way or almost 1200 miles! The Black house is in the lead with almost 250 miles.

Our track club this year entered the track and field at the Kinsmen Field House on Saturday, April 10. The results unfortunately are not available at this time.

There are many more events but I will keep in touch and leave you in suspense.

Mmm - Mmm Good! This past week has certainly been ice-cream time as these three youngsters will confirm. Kimmy (left), Brenda and Trevor Brown of Grandview Ridge were among the many children enjoying this age-old treat at Grandin Shoppers Mall last Saturday afternoon.

AROUND TOWN

Door prize winners at the

District 6 kindergarten meeting

A review of the first year of kindergarten operation was the subject of the monthly education meeting of the St. Albert Protestant Separate School District No. 6 on Wednesday, April 7. Approximately 20 interested parents attended to participate in the meeting.

In the absence of Education Committee Chairman Don Munro, Bill Webber, chairman of District No. 6, took over the chair and he introduced Assistant Superintendent Muriel Martin who has responsibility for kindergartens.

ENROLMENT

Mrs. Martin told those present that in the first year of board operation some 260 to 270 students had been enrolled in kindergarten throughout the district and a total of six full time and one half time staff had been hired. The pupil/teacher ratio fluctuates but remains around 20:1. Each kindergarten has a local advisory committee made up of parent representatives, the principal and the teachers.

PARENT INVOLVEMENT

Mrs. Martin explained that Early Childhood Services grants are available through government but that E.C.S. insist on parent involvement. This has not always been easy as there had been some difficulty in getting the degree of classroom involvement. The assistant superintendent thought that this might be because insufficient assistance has been given to parents. Grandin parents have an added difficulty volunteering as their children attend the Ron Harvey School in Lacombe Park and this presents a transportation problem.

Later on during the meeting some parents questioned whether the kindergarten teachers really needed their assistance. They said they were unsure of the teachers' reaction. Supervisor of Instruction John Curilla responded saying that teachers did want volunteers but he cautioned against sporadic volunteering saying that it could lead to program cancellations. He said parents should not allow a situation to arise when a parent is not present. Children would be deprived of adult company which he would not like to see. The message he received from teachers was loud and clear. They want volunteers. Please come!

One parent expressed an interest in the financial aspects of the kindergarten and was informed by Superintendent Elmer Gish that district office staff would try to give her a reasonable indication of the financial distribution as it affects kindergartens.

ACTIVITIES AND PHILOSOPHY

Mrs. Martin displayed some of the materials used in kindergarten. These included story books, weaving and lacing cards for hand and eye co-ordination. She said that the philosophy emphasizes the involvement of children and the interaction of one child to another. She had been asked why children were not being taught to read and write and she explained to the meeting that the emphasis is not on structured, formal teaching. Mrs. Martin felt that a child might not reach his full potential through forced learning at an early age. Capital grant money had been spent on climbing apparatus and other activity-oriented equipment.

Some parents expressed a wish for more outdoor field trips. Questions on financing field trips were asked and parents were informed that the kindergarten group could raise additional funds for field trips if it so wished.

KINDERGARTENS FOR EVERY CHILD

The concept of kindergarten for every child was new to Alberta and, for one parent at least, it was a privilege not to have to pay 20 dollars a month and a blessing not to have to line up from noon to seven in the evening to secure a place. The district received some praise for its efforts in the kindergarten field.

It was announced that there will be a meeting on Tuesday, May 11th in the Theatre Arts Room at Paul Kane High at 7:30 p.m. The speaker will be Mr. John Moffat from Alberta Education and he will present an audio-visual program on Early Childhood Services. It is hoped that all parents of children attending kindergarten in the 1976/77 school year will attend.

Chairman Bill Webber thanked parents for attending the district education meeting on kindergartens. He considered it had been a worthwhile meeting.

District 3 hear report on pooled media resources

Mr. Bob Chaput, supervisor of Instructional Media for the St. Albert Catholic School District No. 3, presented trustees with a comprehensive survey or study on the present methods used by both St. Albert school districts in the area of instructional media. The survey, which was presented on Monday, April 6th, was originally requested by the board to examine the possible advantages and disadvantages of combining the media resource facilities of St. Albert School Districts No. 3 and No. 6.

The nature of the survey took into account present resources and services, distribution systems, print materials and libraries; personnel, space and location, repair services and finance. These aspects covered both school districts.

The conclusion reached by Mr. Chaput was that the St. Albert Protestant Separate School District No. 6 will establish a district instructional Materials centre along the same lines as the one presently in operation in the catholic district. He considers that the areas to be established and developed in the protestant district are already established in District No. 3 with the exception of binding equipment. However, District 3 has many other services in effect which exceed or are surplus to the immediate needs of District No. 6.

He recommended some areas of joint responsibility between the two districts. These include a common internal delivery system; a central film library; joint tape services; a shared program for expensive models such as skeletal models or small planetariums; and joint purchase of special equipment.

In the area of staffing, Mr. Chaput suggested that specialized personnel such as graphic artist, equipment technician, repairman, might be shared by both districts. He further recommended that one media professional supervise the entire program for both school districts.

Total integration of media services was not recommended at this time by Mr. Chaput, who felt that certain media services such as reproduction and duplicating are needed at both districts and each district may have certain priorities of its own. Religious studies, television production and some film equipment were given as examples.

The board decided to look into the ramifications of the study in more detail.

Rodeo looking for a million dollar season

Professional rodeo in Canada is expecting a banner year in 1976. To date rodeos and chuckwagon races have been approved at 77 locations in Canada, as far apart as Cloverdale (Vancouver) B.C. and Laval (Montreal) Quebec.

The season will extend from mid-March to late November, with rodeo activity to be found somewhere in Canada on virtually every weekend between those dates.

A prize money record was set in 1975 when $819,000 was paid to winning cowboys. But if the results from rodeos completed to date in this young 1976 season are any indication that record will be broken and the sport should see its first million dollar year.

As well as higher payoffs so far in 1976, attendance has been up substantially at most of the early rodeos, clearly indicating the growing popularity of the sport.

With the higher purses, more rodeos than in 1975 and greater attendance, all the signs point to the strongest season in the history of professional rodeo in Canada.

Talent festival comes to Edmonton for first time

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's 17th annual Talent Festival Finals for young Canadian amateur musicians is to be held for the first time in its successful history in Edmonton April 20, 21 and 23.

Taking place in SUB Theatre, University of Alberta, this year's gala event is offering a total of $20,000 in prizes for top honours and will be open to the general public.

Regarded as one of Canada's highest achievements for amateur musicians, the CBC's annual search for new Canadian talent has turned up many musicians who have gone on to greater national and international acclaim. Among them are several from Alberta including Jim Campbell, clarinetist, pianist John Hendrikson and violinist Cenek Vrba, presently concert master with the Calgary Philharmonic Orchestra.

This year's CBC Talent Festival will see eight finalists competing in four categories including voice, piano, winds and strings. Finalists are Arkday Shindelman, violin; Joel Quarrington, double bass; Richard Steuart, trumpet; Guy Carmichael, French horn; Serge Guillemette, piano; Sharon Krause, piano; and Rosemarie Landry and Karen Jensen, voice.

They will be competing for first prize in each category of $3,000 plus a CBC recital broadcast recording. Second prize is $2,000.

Two days of competition will feature a solo performance by each finalist.

For the final evening all contestants will enter part two of the competition when they perform with the Edmonton Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Raymond Dessaint, a conductor from Montreal, and John Avison, conductor of the CBC Vancouver Orchestra. All three days of competition will be judged by a panel of 12 major personalities from the Canadian music scene.

They include Professor Ezra Schabas, Faculty of Music, University of Toronto; Dr. Alan Walker, Department of Music, McMaster University, Hamilton; Mr. Leslie Mann, Balmoral, Manitoba; Mr. Carl Little, Manager of the National Arts Centre, Ottawa; Professor Thomas Rolston, chairman STR Division, University of Alberta; Mr. Bernard Turgeon, bass baritone, Edmonton; Mr. Marcel Baillargeon, Professor of Flute, University of Montreal; Mr. Gilles Manny, Dean of Music Faculty, University of Montreal; Mme Rita Lessens, Montreal; Mr. Gaston Germain, Director of the Orford Arts Centre, Quebec; Mr. Renald St. Pierre, Professor at Laval University, Quebec; and Mme. Liliane Garnier-Lesage, violinist and teacher, Quebec City.

As well as competing for honours in the CBC Talent Festival Finals, the contestants will have the opportunity to perform for the Canadian public when the finals on April 23 are broadcast live on CBC-AM Radio. Doors close at 6:45 p.m. and the Finals Broadcast will begin at 7 o'clock sharp.

By Margyri McCraith

There are several new acquisitions at the Library that you may want to browse through or take home to enjoy.

Grzimek's Animal Life Encyclopedia in 13 volumes published by Van Nostrand Reinhold in 1974 will certainly prove a valuable addition to the reference section. An impressive list of writers and contributors to this comprehensive encyclopedia of animal life is headed by editor-in-chief, Dr. Bernhard Grzimek, professor at the University of Giessen, West Germany, director of the Frankfurt Zoological Gardens and trustee of the Tanzania and Uganda National Parks. This work is based on the classification of animals into naturally related groups. Enhanced by excellent photography, certainly these volumes will disseminate knowledge of the animals and love for them. Man's interest in animal life has perhaps never been greater than it is today and study of this encyclopedia will certainly make one appreciative of the great diversity of magnificent creatures on this planet.

Scenic Wonders of Canada. An illustrated guide to our natural splendors, published by the Canadian Automobile Association and Reader's Digest, is a must for every Canadian. Also included with the book is a handy pamphlet, 1976 Vacation Planner. For the armchair traveller or the family planning a trip across Canada, this volume certainly makes one aware of the scenic beauties of our country, the abundance of natural resources, and the urgent need to protect them. At present there are some 50,000 square miles of the Canadian landscape preserved in National Parks. One visits 42 scenic wonders from Terra Nova National Park and the Cape Breton Highlands to Pacific Rim and Nahanni National Parks, plus hundreds of other attractions through the pages of this beautiful book.

Two indispensable books for the homeowner who is getting anxious to get outdoors in this lovely spring weather are: Growing Lawns and Ground Covers and Landscaping Your Home, both published by Oxmoor House. The first book will help the homeowner or the professional landscaper in selecting, planning, and maintaining lawns and ground cover plants. The second one has chapters on complete gardens, terraces, decks, entries and parking, steps and walks, and plant usage to mention just a few. St. Albert citizens can be very proud of their yards, and whether you need a complete site and planting plan or only a plan for refinements in an established home setting, this collection of landscape design projects offers many good examples. Step-by-step instructions are provided throughout both books.

There are several changes in library hours for the Easter weekend. The Library will be closed on Friday, April 16, Sunday, April 18 and Monday, April 19. It will, however, be open regular hours on Saturday, April 17.

Puppet show teaches French

"This is a fantastic way to learn French!", a quote from a Vital Grandin student who attended the puppet show. About 300 grade four, five and six students were privileged to be the audience for a professional touring group from Quebec.

The puppet show, entitled

"Peperre Goguen en Ville" kept all students spellbound for 45 minutes. The students in grades four, five and six all take oral French as part of their regular curriculum. The puppet show thus became an extension of this regular course work.

Study out on Swan Hills wilderness

The Alberta Wilderness Association and the Edmonton Chapter of the National and Provincial Parks Association have just received a $1250 award from White Owl Conservation Awards to assist in the distribution of their new study, 'The Western Swan Hills - Alberta's Forgotten Wilderness.'

The book, fourth in a series (Elbow-Sheep - Headwaters; 9 Wildland Recreation Areas on Alberta's East Slopes; Willmore Wilderness Park: are the first three), describes the recreational and natural history aspects of the Western Swan Hills (about 150 miles north and west of Edmonton). The Western Swan Hills is a truly unique Alberta wilderness - home of the largest race of the Grizzly Bear.

The White Owl Conservation Award will be used to defray costs of sending the study free of charge (it is available to the general public for $3.) to all Alberta junior and senior high school libraries, and as well to Alberta MP's, MLA's and senior civil servants.

The study (45 pages, 5 maps, flora and fauna checklist, illustrations) is available from either the Alberta Wilderness Association (Box 6398, Sta. D, Calgary, Alberta, T2P 2E1) or the Edmonton Chapter, National and Provincial Parks Association, (c/o 13715 - 101st Avenue, Edmonton, Alberta) for $3., post paid.

Internationally acclaimed singing star Helen Reddy has been signed to star in Walt Disney Productions' "Pete's Dragon," a musical combining live action and animation set to start filming in June.

The movie, scheduled to be the studio's most expensive and brightest musical since "Mary Poppins," will feature 14 songs by two-time Academy Award winners Al Kasha and Joel Hirschhorn.

Reddy makes her debut in a movie musical tailor-made for her special and unique talents. She will portray Nora, a lighthouse keeper's daughter who befriends a small runaway boy and his "invisible" pet dragon.

She achieved national recognition for her single, "I Don't Know How to Love Him," and won a Grammy award for the record that became known as the unofficial theme song for the Women's Liberation Movement. "I Am Woman." She has also received seven gold albums, three platinum albums and 27 gold records.

NUTRITION TODAY

particularly carbohydrates to the total diet.

Sponsored by Kellogg Salada Canada Ltd., the day and a half event at the Royal York Hotel enabled the participants to exchange information on nutrition and the relationship of the food we eat to our health.

A. G. Langbo, president of Kellogg Salada Canada Ltd., welcomed the participants after which Dr. George H. Beaton, chairman of the Dept. of Food Science and Nutrition of the University of Toronto, opened the symposium by pointing out the uniqueness of the event. He remarked that the focus of the discussions was on the "relation of food we consume to health" and the method of investigation is the "field and clinical investigation rather than the experimental laboratory study."

Dr. Frederick J. Stare, chairman of the Dept. of Nutrition of the Harvard School of Public Health, spoke on the "Role of Carbohydrates in Nutrition" emphasizing that sugar, in moderation, would continue to play a useful and important role in diet. Dr. Stare contended that the calories lost by millions of people on reduced or non-sugar diets are difficult to make up from other foods, and those calories are needed particularly by children and infants.

According to Dr. Stare, a balanced diet is necessary to provide good nutrition, the best nutrition possible by one's characteristics, and carbohydrates, both sugar and starch, is part of the balanced diet.

Following Dr. Stare, Dr. Denis P. Burkitt stressed the importance of dietary fibre in daily diet. Referred to as the "forgotten factor" of nutrition, Dr. Burkitt pointed out that the lack of fibre is directly related to surgical disease.

A member of the External Scientific Staff of the Medical Research Council, London, England, Dr. Burkitt explained that the prevalence of some common diseases in western countries is directly related to the size and consistency of stools which in turn is directly related to the intake of dietary fibre.

"Chemophobia" held the spotlight at lunch during which Dr. Fergus M. Clydesdale told the participants that a "fear of chemicals" has developed in North America because of anti-establishment feelings, work of consumer activists and mistrust of the food industry and government regulatory agencies.

Dr. Clydesdale, professor in the Department of Nutrition and Food Science at the University of Massachusetts in Amherst, Mass., postulated that the resulting belief that any processed or manipulated food is bad and that it is wrong to add any chemical to food material is "ludicrous at best." He claimed that we must recognize that "food themselves are simply chemicals; humans are simply chemicals and the only really scientific reason for eating is to replace the chemicals in the human body with chemicals from food."

Dr. Richard Goldbloom, professor and head of the department of Pediatrics at Dalhousie University addressed the symposium on "Obesity in Children." Dr. Goldbloom, who also serves as Physician-in-Chief of the Isaac Walton Killam Hospital for Children, claimed that obsessions with obesity by doctors, nurses, nutritionists, and North Americans in general, is the result of deep-rooted social prejudice against the obese of all ages. Dr. Goldbloom said that our bias was rationalized by invoking "inadequately documented risks to health, without really knowing whether obesity is the cause or merely the companion of those widely advertised risks."

Closing the afternoon session, Dr. Gary Costly, vice-president of public affairs for the Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, Mich., spoke directly to the topic of the nutritional aspects of ready-to-eat cereals.

Dr. Costly remarked that the ready-to-eat cereals provide a unique opportunity to act as carriers for essential nutrients. He pointed out that technology has advanced to such an extent that it is possible to add a variety of vitamins and minerals to breakfast cereal products so that the portion of the cereal and milk serving could complement the nutritional characteristics of milk.

Dental decay was the theme of Dr. Robert L. Glass's talk on "Diet and Dental Caries." According to Dr. Glass, dental decay is one of the most prevalent diseases affecting mankind today and may be on the increase in non-flouridated areas.

Dr. Glass, who is associate staff member and head of the Epidemiological Department of Forsyth Dental Centre, Boston, Mass., also pointed out that change in dietary habits and more frequent eating of between meal snacks is one explanation for the increase. Dr. Glass also felt that a large amount of epidemiological evidence indicated that eating large amounts of sugar does not necessarily increase dental caries. It depends on the physical form in which it is eaten, the other ingredients of the food with which it is compounded, the actual amount consumed, and the frequency with which it is eaten, among other circumstances.

Dr. Glass recommended that oral hygiene programs be expanded through public schools until the entire Canadian population is well-informed with necessity for frequent dental flossing and brushing.

Dr. J. A. Hargreaves, professor and chairman, Faculty of Dentistry at the University of Toronto, presented the final paper of the symposium. In his talk, "Effects of Change in Diet Patterns on Dental Caries," Dr. Hargreaves related a specific study in 1937 of people with high fish consumption and a low level of dental caries and a similar study in 1967 which also investigated fluoride levels of drinking water and teeth. The later study reveals a large change in diet patterns including increased consumption of refined foods and, importantly, a decrease in quantity of fish consumed. The dental health of children in the later study had deteriorated significantly.

Comets end season with banquet and awards night

St. Albert Comets ended their 1975/76 season with a very successful banquet and awards night Saturday at the Club Mocambo.

About 130 guests were entertained by Master of Ceremonies (and player) Wally Monson, who did a masterful job of introducing guests and players.

Club President Claude Contant called on Mayor Richard Plain to say a few words on behalf of the Town. Mr. Contant then introduced Mr. Plain to each guest.

Two players were double winners for team trophies.

Perry Pearn was presented the S & W Trail Service trophy by Dale Ripple for being the top scorer during the regular season. He was also named the most valuable player and received the Jasper Auto Parts trophy from Mr. Steve Pocholik of Jasper Auto Parts.

Wally Monson was the most valuable player during the playoffs and was presented the Satellite Painting Ltd., trophy by President Claude Contant.

Brian Stevens took home the Niagara Finance trophy for being the least penalized player during the regular season.

Bob Beaulieu won the top defenceman trophy donated by Shell Farm Service and presented by Ed Savoie.

The club also acknowledged some volunteer help from Mrs. Perrault, Larry Johannes, Ernie Cunningham and Larry Mitchell. All received an engraved mug with Mrs. Perrault also receiving two charms.

Various raffles and spot dances were played and the evening was capped off by excellent dancing to music by the "Busted Flats."

President Claude Contant would like to thank all who attended and hopes the upcoming season will be supported bigger and better than ever.

Onway and Enoch.

Teams applying for entry and being accepted were Devon, Spruce Grove Total Sound, Garden Valley and Winterburn.

The league schedule is now being made up and regular season play is set for the first week in May.

Games will be played each Monday and Wednesday and will start at 7:30 p.m.

The next meeting will be held April 20 in Calahoo at 8 p.m.

Balers eliminated in semi finals at Saskatoon

New Holland Balers Double B peewee team travelled to Saskatoon for the North Star Peewee tournament on the weekend. The tournament consisted of teams from Saskatoon, Prince Albert, Melfort, Melville, Yorkton, North Battleford, Asquith and Thunder Bay, Ontario and Sherwood Park.

Balers lost a heartbreaker to get eliminated as they had completely outplayed the Saskatoon Colonels by outshooting them 52 to 20, however penalties killed them. They were constantly playing short-handed. Colonels opened the scoring at the 10 minute mark and led 1 to 0. Ken Myck drilled a shot between the goalie pad and the goalpost shortly after the Colonels scored to apparently tie the game, however the referee over-ruled the goal judge and disallowed it. The referee claimed there was a hole in the net and it went through the side. However on inspecting the net at the end of the period revealed no hole. The referee's decision held and the Balers became frustrated and could not quite put it together. End of first period ended 1 to 0 for Saskatoon.

Neither team could score in the second as Balers were constantly short-handed again. The end of second period the Colonels still led 1 to 0.

In the third period Coach Al Laplante moved bulky defenceman Scott Holliday up to left wing and it paid off as Holliday slid one past the Saskatoon netminder on a pass from Ricky Gray. With 11 minutes to go the score was tied 1 to 1.

Saskatoon scored two fast goals with only three minutes to go, however with the Colonels leading 3 to 1 the Balers kept pressing, with hard checking, Brian Hunt scored on a pass from Norm Odginga with one minute to go. The Balers were desperately trying for the equalizer but received yet another penalty and with this time ran out on them. Saskatoon put another one in with only 10 seconds to go. Final score 4 to 2 for the Saskatoon Colonels.

In a game earlier in the day the Balers got two goals by Scott Holliday including the game winner with only eight minutes to go in the game to defeat Saskatoon North Stars 4 to 3.

Balers Ricky Gray opened the scoring on a relay from Ken Myck. Holliday's first goal came on a good effort by Brad Hammett and Jamie Sander getting the puck back to the point to make it 2 to 0. North Stars tied the game with two goals midway through second period, leaving the game tied at 2 to 2 at the end of second period.

Brad Hammett made it 3 to 2 for the Balers early in the third period when he picked up a rebound on a drive from the point by Scott Holliday. North Stars came right back and tied the contest at 3 to 3. Again it was a case of some good checking in the corners. Dean Clark and Danny Laplante got the puck back to Scott Holliday who snapped a wrist shot into the top corner of the net for the Balers victory. With eight minutes to go the team checked well and Ron Malo in goal made a couple of key stops to preserve the win.

In the Balers initial contest against the Saskatoon Aces, Balers got goals by Ken Myck unassisted and Brian Hunt from Mitch Poulin and Myck, but it wasn't enough as the Aces scored one in the first period and two in the third period to squeak out a 3 to 2 victory. John Sexsmith tended goal in the first and third games, with Ron Malo guarding the nets in the second game. The competition was very keen in all three games with the Balers getting outscored 10 to 8 over the route.

Balers now get ready for the Sherwood Park tournament this weekend, which will probably wrap up their hockey season.

Generals meet All-stars in charity game Saturday

Norm Tate, St. Albert Kinsmen chairman of the province-sponsored Cystic Fibrosis Association announced last night, the St. Albert Standard Generals junior hockey club would take on a group of St. Albert Allstars in an exhibition game this Saturday night in St. Albert.

The game slated for 8:30 p.m., will be the final hockey game of the season and the arena closes Sunday.

The General's opposition will be a mystery until game time as Mr. Tate is still busy lining up talent. All will however be from St. Albert and area and Generals who produced some excellent hockey this season will have their hands full.

Regardless of the outcome, the real winner will be the Cystic Fibrosis Association in their fight to find a cure for this serious disease.

With this being the final game of the season, let's all get out and show the hard working, community-minded Kinsmen that we really care.

Admission for everyone over 12 is only $1.00. Free program with player lineup will be available.

St. Albert must have a really good golf course if it attracts enthusiasts all the way from Edmonton. Norm Seehagen of 10435 - 50 Street was just coming up the home stretch as he teed off at the 17th hole. The drive was long and straight, a nice way to bring a game to a close.

WATERDOGS DON'T HAVE FLEAS

Waterdogs are never bothered with waterfleas, and they're not known for their bark either. That's because they're not members of the canine family, but rather are salamanders that live in water until they grow to adult form.

At first glance, a young waterdog appears to resemble a small catfish, but closer inspection reveals that it has legs and feet instead of fins. It also has gills which are external, lying flat against the body just behind the head.

Born from eggs deposited in lakes and streams of the south-west and west, waterdogs grow to several inches in length before moving to land and becoming terrestrial salamanders.

Waterdogs are considered to be excellent bait. In states where they exist naturally, anglers prize them for fishing largemouth bass. Fishing in other areas, where waterdogs don't live, the outdoor recreation staff at Mercury outboards has learned that soft plastic imitations will work almost as well as the real thing. Although methods vary between locales, fishing a live or plastic waterdog is much like fishing a plastic worm.

For those who doubt the authenticity of waterfleas, they also live in the same environment as waterdogs. Most waterfleas are microscopic crustaceans, although some grow to more than one-half inch long. They feed primarily on algae, and are an important food source for many young fish.

Legion curling team wins Western title

The senior curling rink representing the St. Albert Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion came through big in the western Canadian finals held in Moose Jaw and brought home the championship trophy.

Skip Lorne Brothen and his curlers, Elmer Beisiegel, Bill Eschak and Lou Reaugh had to hang in tough for every game, winning by scores of 8-7, 7-6 and 8-7, making for great spectator excitement, but lots of tension for the curlers.

The rink was under the management of Wally Swenarchuk who contributed some skills and some comic relief for the curlers. He reports that Lou Reaugh planted most of his rocks where the skip wanted them and Bill Eschak came through in like fashion. Third Elmer Beisiegel he said curled like a champion, continuing pulling his team to a favourable position for the skip.

Lorne Brothen faced a situation in each of the three games where the last rock was needed for the win. "And Lorne came through where it counted."

Lorne and "Bike" consulted and followed a solid game plan which often put the opposition on the defensive and the strategy paid off.

The Legion now have trophies from the zone, district and western Canada wins - a fine contribution for the new trophy case in the new hall. Legion senior curling does not go beyond the western Canada level at present.

The Fearsome Foursome had plenty of support from Geneva Brothen, Marie Eschak, Bernice Reaugh, Polly Swenarchuk and Pearl and Mary, all of whom also helped to spread the name of St. Albert in Moose Jaw. The team had symbolic tokens for presentations to the other teams from the town and the province as well.

Gibbons residents vote yes for city water

Village of Gibbons Mayor "Snip" Loblick expressed delight April 9 when a majority vote April 8 edged in an era of clean water to be piped from Edmonton to Gibbons.

Total cost of the link for treated water with the North East Water Board system is put at well over the $1/2 million mark, but that did not bother the 339 who voted for the tie-in out of 471 eligible voters in Gibbons.

Out of the total who voted on the $575,000 debenture, 87 percent crossed the yes on their ballots. There were 25 no votes and 20 spoiled ballots.

Mayor Loblick said he was very happy with the results of the plebiscite but added that he couldn't give any details about construction of the line - "not just right off the top."

Gibbons residents will pay about $4.50 a week for the next 25 years to pay off the debenture, but as the town grows this burden will be shared and will be further lightened with other hook-ups.

ST. ALBERT MAYOR'S CONCERN FOR GIBBONS WATER PROBLEM

St. Albert Mayor Dick Plain knew of the plebiscite for a better water supply at Gibbons and said last Thursday St. Albert had just recently applied to the Department of the Environment to raise water levels on Big Lake to their 1974 level.

"You'd have better flood control and better flow all round (on the Sturgeon River)," the mayor said, adding "and possibly you could give a supply to Gibbons."

Mayor Loblick, said he would like to see more water in the Sturgeon River for recreation and fishing purposes, but he pointed out that with pollution in the river, a (domestic) supply from Big Lake would not be feasible.

Mayor Plain explained that water from Big Lake could eventually be brought to the same quality as Edmonton water, and that Sturgeon River water would be 35 percent cheaper than the Edmonton rate.

He stated St. Albert had spent $6 million to clean effluent in the Sturgeon River, though some of this was still percolating from centres like Spruce Grove.

Mayor Plain expects the Department of the Environment will work out a cost analysis on the project to raise the Big Lake water level.

He referred to the days when a paddle steamer plied the Sturgeon River and extolled the recreation potential a raised lake level would have.

He said "You could join the St. Albert Sailing Club" if the level of the lake increased to four feet as opposed to current shallow depths.

Both Mayor Plain and Mayor Loblick agreed that raising the level of Big Lake would increase the recreation potential of the Sturgeon River.

LOOKING MIGHTY CONTENT after St. Albert MLA Ernie Jamison passed over a $50,000 cheque to the Riviere Qui Barre Agricultural Society for that community's area, are: (from left) President of the Agricultural Society Joe Sheehan, who expressed warm thanks for the grant, Sturgeon Regional Recreation Director Laurent Coulombe, Agricultural Society Secretary-Treasurer Jim Kyle and the MLA.

Elmer MacKay to speak to Wetaskiwin PC meeting

The Federal Progressive Conservative Association of the Constituency of Wetaskiwin will be holding its annual meeting on April 26 at 8 p.m. in the Towne House Motor Hotel, Leduc. The guest speaker for the evening will be Mr. Elmer MacKay, Member of Parliament for Central Nova, Nova Scotia.

Mr. MacKay has just recently been appointed Progressive Conservative Caucus Chairman, and he is also Party critic for the Solicitor General's Department.

He was first elected to the House of Commons in a by-election in 1971 and has proven to be a real thorn in the side of the Liberal Party, in particular for his revelations with regard to the improprieties in both an Air Canada financial transaction and in the Sky Shops lease affair.

At the upcoming meeting, the 1976 executive of the Association will be elected, and reports will be presented by delegates who attended the Leadership Convention in Ottawa. There will also be an opportunity for concerned individuals to raise questions on the controversial Peace and Security legislation.

The Association is looking for a good turnout and extends an open invitation to all interested people to attend. Coffee and donuts will be served.

ERPC against rail abandonment

The federally appointed Grain Handling and Transportation Commission, concerned with evaluation of regional transportation requirements, conducted hearings early this year in several communities along the Athabasca and Coronado CNR lines.

These two rail lines are among some 24 branchlines in Alberta that are under evaluation for retention or abandonment. In the Edmonton Region, grain producers, elevator systems in the communities of Legal, Gibbons, Morinville and Redwater which is essentially an industrial growth node and Legal where an alfalfa dehydrating plant is located largely because of access to railway facilities.

Abandonment of the railway would be inconsistent with the Commission's policies which encourage concentrated decentralization of population and industry to surrounding communities.

The railway branchlines, in serving grainhandling functions are also important economically to the surrounding agricultural population. The village of Legal is a major grain collection point on the Athabasca subdivision. Local officials representing the interests of the rural and urban population, recommended upgrading and new investment rather than discontinuing rail service.

Further, the level of the rail service cannot be justified on the basis of present user demand, but should be regarded as a necessary element for future overhead capital which warrants subsidy. The railway can be used as an instrument to reduce economic disparity among different areas or communities. The two lines under review relieve the roadway system of what could be potentially heavy truck traffic if freight were to be carried by this mode. Increased use of regional roadways would require substantial municipal expenditure to maintain adequate highway corridors.

In summary, the Edmonton Regional Planning Commission submission outlined a case for retention of railway services and recommended that the Athabasca and Coronado subdivision should be guaranteed till the year 2000.

The brief also stipulated that should abandonment occur, the right of way should be retained by the province or the municipality for possible use as a utility or transportation corridor at a future date.

In addition, the Commission would support abandonment of the Coronado Subdivision from the St. Paul Junction to Gibbons (or some other convenient point) if the line is linked to the NAR subdivision to the west, and provided that a spur line from Gibbons to the alternative route is maintained.

(Taken from "Regional Update," Edmonton Regional Planning Commission).

The Sturgeon District would like to thank the judges, Mrs. Dianne Latham and Mr. Paul Rieppl for a job well done. Congratulations to all contestants!

Prairie seeding forecast

In its first crop report of the year, United Grain Growers (UGG) Friday forecast prairie farmers will seed eight percent more red spring wheat and 12 percent more durum in the spring of 1976.

However, it predicted a drop of 17 1/2 percent in the acreage seeded to flax and 38 percent to rapeseed.

The figures for other crops were predicted at being practically unchanged. The outs acreage was forecast to be down two percent, barley up one percent and rye down five percent.

The total acreage to be seeded to grain and oilseeds in 1976 was estimated at 7.7 percent.

(The figures are based on estimates made in March by specially selected elevator managers located at key sample points. The managers were supplied with 1975 seeded acreage figures and were asked to estimate the change in seeded acreage this year. The figures were processed through a computer.)

By Mary Benta

Morinville kindergarten registration and general meeting will be held on May 4, 1976, in the Rec. Centre at 8 p.m. Parents must register children at this meeting. Only Morinville residents will qualify. Child must be five years of age by February 18, 1977. Birth certificate required.

The annual Sportsman Supper will be held on April 24 at 6:30 p.m. at the Rec. Centre. A dance will follow with music by the Satellites. Tickets are $15 per person and are available from Ag. Society members. Proceeds go towards the Agricultural complex.

Pedal pushers will not be held this spring due to lack of parent participation.

Frontier Daze committee reminds those who would show their arts and crafts during Frontier Daze, to begin preparation of same.

The Central Sturgeon Ag. Society reminds Morinville and district residents that the "name the building" contest will be at a close on April 24. There is still time to get your ideas in on the name you think would best suit the multi-use structure. Entries may be mailed to Paulette Houle, Morinville or Mary Hittinger, Morinville. $25 will be awarded to the winning entry.

Rec. Committee meeting, which was scheduled for April 15, has been cancelled for this month.

The next meeting of the United Church Ladies Aid will be held on Tuesday, April 20, 1976, at the home of Miss W. Weiss. The meeting starts at 8 p.m. sharp. All ladies are welcome. For more information please call Jean Robinson at 939-4153.

Farmers' market will be held again this year beginning May 1, 1976. Those with any produce to sell (bedding plants, etc.) should call Ken McKenzie at 939-3009.

Central Sturgeon Ag. Society members will be approaching many people in the upcoming weeks to take out memberships. The last year has been a very busy one with the opening of the new multi purpose building and associated growing pains, the result of which new members have not been approached, old members were not re-canvassed and membership has of course dwindled. Membership cost only one dollar and as much or as little time as you can afford to donate. To be healthy and vital an organization such as this should have a broad base of membership. If you are approached please accept, if you are not, please contact any Ag. Society member. All fees are applied to operational budget items.

April 7 the Morinville Goodtimers paid a visit to the Ag. meeting and presented a cheque of $500 to the Society which represented the entire proceeds realized in their recent hockey tournament. This donation joins 1500 dollars given by the Morinville Credit Union and 120 dollars donated by the Morinville RCMP detachment, which will all be applied to the artificial ice fund.

Arena concessions have grossed over 20,000 dollars so far this year and the legions of volunteers who have been recruited by the Ag. members should be thanked. Ice rentals and curling fees have both passed the $5,000 mark and those volunteers also deserve thanks. Next regular meeting is the first Wednesday in May.

Frontier Daze organizers are currently looking for talent to perform at their Sunday, June 27, afternoon program, (not evening as was earlier reported). Phone Lois Mulligan at 939-4048 for more information.

More good news to Morinville shoppers - Happy Pop, which is now open across from the Post Office, will be handling Old Dutch Chips and products. Morinville is certainly growing and with this growth, we, the people are benefiting from its development.

Anyone who has left the following articles in the dressing room during the carnival on Sunday, April 11, should call Jean Robinson 939-4153: long sleeve white cotton blouse; sleeveless white top with front design; turquoise blue head scarf; pink comb; and a camera.

Mite A finished the hockey season Saturday, April 10, with a game against their dads and won 13-8. In other games the mites defeated St. Albert teams 10-5 and 10-8 and Edmonton 12-2. Goal scorers were: Chris Bokenfohr - 15, Dwight Van Brabant - 15, Neil Bokenfohr - 7, Robby Hoffman - 2, Rick Mulligan - 2, Timmy Turner - 1, Keith Streeter - 1; Phyl Schayes 1 and Dean Volmer - 1.

SUTLEY WINS LEGION 'SPIEL

On April 3 the Morinville branch of the Royal Canadian Legion held their annual curling bonspiel. This year it was a mixed fun spiel. Sixteen rinks turned out to compete for the Legion challenge trophy.

Due to the lack of curling ice last year the Legion could not hold a bonspiel so this one will be considered as the 1975 event. The 1976 event will be held early this fall so be sure to save a weekend for this gala occasion.

First place went to the Pat Sutley rink who played three outstanding games to amass 24 points.

Second place went to Andy Litvin and his gang.

Third place went to Gib Bodez and his happy group. Last but not least Harvey Vranas and his tired group took the BOOBY prize. I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the people involved in making this event a real success, and invite all who participated come back this fall and compete once again for the challenge trophy.

Reader's co-operation in telephoning or bringing in news items is much appreciated and as early in the week as possible. News items are completed Sunday evenings for delivery Monday to the Gazette. Please phone 939-4145 or stop in at 9901 - 99 Avenue (Directly behind the new Red Roost-ter).

Morinville Carnival That's Entertainment

By Marg Bentz

On Sunday, April 11, 1976, Morinville was treated to a very enjoyable ice carnival. Over 85 youngsters put their skills together and thoroughly entertained a capacity crowd. This event showed the work that had been accomplished by the town's young figure skaters and power skaters.

Two out of towners, Andy Kilkus and John Shields, both from O.K. radio in Westlock, did an excellent job as the show's master of ceremonies. Eager Blackburn, president of the Morinville Lions Figure Skating Club, opened the carnival with a message. The Morinville Drum and Bugle Band started off the afternoon with O'Canada and "I'd like to teach the World."

Sesame Street was the first of the skating show and this proved to be great entertainment for the youngsters. A solo was then performed by Jeanette Saldern. Jeanette is working on her first figure and junior bronze.

Then came the "show stealers." The younger children of the club (aged four to nine years) did the "March of the Siamese Children" from the King and I.

Jacqueline Cormier then did a solo. This youngster is working on her first figure and her senior bronze dances. A very lively group then skated to "Rock Around the Clock" from American Graffiti. A solo by Lise Houle was then given. Lise is on her third figure and senior silver dances.

A song from Mary Poppins "Chim Chim Cherie" was then skated to by girl chimney sweeps. Donna Krykow, who is working on her second figure and junior bronze dances, then performed her solo.

Harem dancers (aged four - 9 years) stole the hearts of many as they did the theme from Cleopatra. Jocelyn Blackburn then performed her solo. This young skater is working on her second figure and the junior silver dances. A Canasta Tango was then danced by the preliminary dance and a "Quickstep" by Gold dance.

A group of young power skaters then showed off their skills in chuckwagon races. This race represents the beginners to juniors level skaters of the power skating club. A brief 20 minute intermission then took place.

I'm sure anyone would welcome these girls coming to sweep out the house. Chlm Chlm Cherie from Mary Poppins was the music to which this group performed.

After the break, presentations were made to the pros who had taught the youngsters during the past year. Valerie Wood and Chantelle Gale presented the ARSA pros - Sandra Miskolzie and Valerie Tutton with their gifts Laurel Robinson and Linell Kachman gave their gifts to the CFSA pros - Ann Vipond and Margaret Stewart. Dennis Turner and Serge Froment presented their gifts to the power skater pros - Bozo Blackburn and Danny Robinson.

The program then got underway with the senior girls skating as peasant girls to "Fiddler on the Roof." Paige Robinson who is working on her first figure and junior bronze dances then gave her solo.

The preliminary group from the ARSA program then skated to "Milk and Honey." This is the largest group this winter. Carolyn Goebel, who is now working on her first figure and senior bronze dances then performed her solo.

The bronze group from the ARSA program then skated to a song from Hello Dolly - Before the Parade Passes By. Vivian Blackburn then performed a flawless solo. Vivian is currently working on her fifth figure and senior silver dances.

A very enjoyable number from Sesame Street "Rubber Ducky" then enchanted the kids from two to 82. A solo was then given by Cynthia Robinson. Cynthia is working on her fourth figure and her senior silver dances. She also participated in the non qualifying event in the sub-winter games competitions in Drayton Valley last winter and brought home a bronze medal.

The silver and gold skaters then performed to "It's a Mad Mad World." The gold skaters have completed the ARSA program and they hope to finish next fall. The senior boys from the power skating program then performed to the "Longest Day." "Jesus Christ Superstar" was then performed by four lovely young ladies. The grand finale then was skated by all the youngsters who performed in the carnival. A thoroughly enjoyable afternoon was had by all. This event was the final event held in the arena for this winter and what a way to close!

This member of the Bronze group is intently concentrating on her next move. She is part of the number called 'Before the Parade Passes By' from Hello Dolly.

Morinville seniors hold wind-up do

Morinville Motors Senior hockey club put their best collective foot forward Saturday evening when they had their wind-up ball. Cocktails, a turkey supper (a la United Church Ladies Aid), awards, speeches, gourmet drinking exhibition, more speeches and a good dance (Guy Meunier and his band) were the order of the evening.

O'Neil Chevalier who doubles as team captain was the master of ceremonies; he thanked on behalf of the team: Paul Krauskopf, manager; Richard LePage, timekeeper; Bud Rockwell, equipment manager; Rene Leduc, statistics; George St. Laurent and Roger Tourangeau, coaches and stick-boy Kevin Rousseau. He also thanked the Morinville Volunteer Ambulance Association for their services and the Morinville Motor Inn Hotel for their co-sponsorship.

Pat and Lil Sutley presented Richard Wright with the "Best Defence Trophy", Jack MacAskill received the "Best Forward Trophy" from Barbara and Louis Tailleux, Rene Leduc gave the statistician's blessing (highest plus) to Richard Wright while coach George St. Laurent gave the MVP in the playoffs to Rick Pugliese, the Player Contributing the Most with the Least Recognition to Wayne Miller and the Best Goal of the Year to Norm Bohl. The League Pennant Winners Trophy was on display and will be displayed throughout the coming year in the Morinville Motor Inn. Other hardware winners on the team were goaler John Downs Most Valuable Player and Carl Royal who received the Sturgeon Hockey League's "Lady Bing Award." Carl Royan also captain of the championship crew in the boat races and a suitable trophy for that event will also be displayed in the Morinville Motor Inn Hotel where it will no doubt inspire many a dry patron. Other crew members were Paul Krauskopf, Al Bentz and Ed St. Laurent.

Master of Ceremonies O'Neil Chevalier thanked the Gazette and the Morinville reporter for the sports coverage throughout the winter. These thanks are acknowledged, however I would be remiss not to thank Paul Krauskopf for his untiring efforts in supplying game sheets and any other information required for these reports. The Gazette joins the fans in congratulations to the team and trophy winning players, whom we will no doubt continue to support in the future.

CUT DOWN ON "DOWN-TIME"

Everybody's talking about cutting down on down-time, but International has done something about it. The new TD-20E gives you more features, more performance, plus total—modular power train. This means that now whole components —steering/braking, transmission, torque converter, engine and final drive—can be removed and replaced in 3 hours or less. And you save hours, even days of down-time.

Just send the faulty components to the shop for repairs, while the mighty 20E Crawler Tractor keeps on with the job. Once again International proves that there is something new under the sun.

Why pay more for an all-season truck and tractor oil?

Shell Rotella® T Multigrade motor oils makes a lot of sense if you operate a mixed fleet in all kinds of weather.

They meet the warranty requirements for most new diesel (except Series 3) and gasoline trucks, tractors and cars. If not, then there's almost certainly another Shell motor oil that will meet your warranty requirements. And at the right price, too.

We know how important motor oil performance is to you - especially at today's equipment costs. Come in and discuss your requirements.

CLOSURE INVOKED ON GUN CONTROL BILL

The present Liberal majority government has brought in closure on the debate of Bill C-83.

Bill C-83 is an extensive bill and more than 30 of its 73 pages deal with gun control. Other areas that are covered are wire-tapping, dangerous offenders, crime inquiries, dangerous sexual offenders, the Parole Act and the Penitentiary Act.

We in the Progressive Conservative Party are in a very difficult position as there are portions of this bill with which we agree and yet there are others, such as those dealing with gun legislation, that we cannot accept. Now that the government has limited the debate to just four more days, it will be impossible for Members of Parliament to fully express the concerns of their constituents in regard to this controversial piece of legislation.

It is most unfortunate when Members are muzzled on such an important issue as this.

I personally have serious reservations about many parts of this bill and it is my hope that substantial amendments will be approved before it is enacted as law so that this legislation will be more beneficial to the public at large.

Some of my reservations are that there are no details whatsoever in this Bill to show just how it is to be administered, what sort of bureaucracy would be established to handle the registration of guns, how large an organization would be required, or even what the fees might be to license the gun owners.

As the specific regulations will not be written into the bill until after it has been passed and enforced by the Cabinet, Members of Parliament will have no opportunity to debate the actual terms of this legislation in the limited time allowed.

In addition to the reservations about Bill C-83 which I have already given, I am concerned that law-abiding gun owners in Canada are being made the fall guys in the government's failure to deal effectively with a rise in violent crimes in Canada. I do not believe that by forcing responsible citizens to register their firearms with the police department or some other government agency, that there will be any effect whatsoever on criminal activities.

The provincial government of Saskatchewan has written to the federal Justice Minister, Ron Basford, opposing the proposed licensing of gun owners. The letter dated February 17, states that in the opinion of the province it will cost in the vicinity of $25 to $50 to check the background of each licensee and the grantor when there is an application for a licence for a gun. The letter which was written after consultation with Saskatchewan police chiefs, also objects to the licensing proposal on the grounds that it would not guarantee proper care in the handling and storage of firearms.

On April 5, retired RCMP Commissioner L. H. Nicholson, also came out in opposition to the government's controversial proposed legislation, Bill C-83. He stated, "Bill C-83 was poorly constructed and drafted without consultation with the sportsmen and marksmen concerned." "Assistance in the form of positive proposals was offered to the government," he said, "but no opportunity was given to provide help."

The government's Peace and Security legislation which includes Bill C-83 and Bill C-84, a bill to abolish capital punishment (about which I hope to comment in my next report) has generated more mail than has any other topic during the period of time that I have had the privilege of being your Member of Parliament. I appreciate having received your views on these important issues as this has enabled me to have a clearer perspective of the stand which the Pembina constituents would like me to take in order that I may more truly be their representative.

DR. KEN WELLS RETIRES

Dr. Ken Wells, Canada's Veterinary Director-General since 1955, retired at the end of March from Agriculture Canada's Health of Animals Branch after 36 years with the department.

During his distinguished career he has become known internationally for making a major impact on animal disease control. Dr. Wells, 61, was appointed Assistant Deputy Minister for Health of Animals in July, 1975.

SWINE A1

Artificial insemination of swine surged forward last year in Canada with the development of a boar semen freezing process.

The use of frozen boar semen is taking hold in the swine industry and Canada hopes to develop export markets for semen now that the product can be stored and transported effectively. Boars in the program are on loan to provincial A1 units under Agriculture Canada's Sire Loan Policy.

SAVING THE SOIL

Some current farming practices are destroying valuable organic soils, according to soil scientist Ted Mass of the Agriculture Canada Agassiz B.C., Research Station. He recently published an Agriculture Canada booklet on the subject.

He says the most common fallacy is that deep plowing is good for organic soils, when in fact it is harmful in several ways.

Rent, services and you.

"Services" are privileges, or benefits or anything else associated with rental accommodations that are provided either directly or indirectly by the landlord.

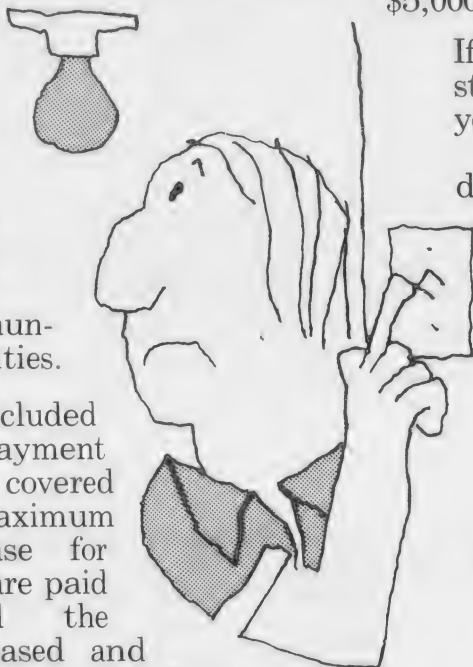

Services could be furniture or furnishings, parking, electrical plug-ins, utilities, cleaning services, storage space, laundry or game facilities.

If services are included in your rental payment then they're also covered by the 10% maximum allowable increase for 1976. If services are paid separately and the amount is increased and you feel it's unwarranted then you can ask for an investigation by a Rent Regulation Officer. If the officer recommends that the increase is unjustified and the Board agrees, then failure to eliminate that increase may result in a fine of not more than $5,000.00.

If you don't understand services, or if you're involved in a landlord-tenant dispute that you and your landlord together can't solve then talk to us. The Temporary Rent Regulation Measures Act is for everyone.

We're here to help.
